Short Bio

James Musgrave writes mysteries, science fiction, horror, and short fiction with a focus on atmosphere, tension, and consequence. His work ranges from award-winning dark story collections to historical mysteries and genre-bending novels published under the pseudonym E.Z. Graves.

Long Bio

James Musgrave is an author of mysteries, science fiction, horror, and short fiction. His writing blends dark atmosphere with psychological depth and a steady sense of consequence. His books include the award-winning collection Valley of the Dogs, the BookLife Prize-recognized historical mystery The Angel's Trumpet, and the Pat O'Malley historical mystery Forevermore. He also writes as E.Z. Graves, whose novel Love Zombies of San Diego was named a San Diego Book Award finalist. His story The Secret Garden appears in Our Best War Stories, an anthology by military veterans published by Midwest Press.
